The Prime Minister launched the PE, School Sport and Club Links (PESSCL) strategy on 2 October 2002. It is being delivered by the Department for Education and Skills (DfES) and the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) through eight programmes.

- Specialist sports colleges
- School sports coordinators
- Gifted and talented
- QCA PE - School sport investigation
- Step into sport
- Professional development
- School/club links
- Swimming

Over the next three years, from April 2003, the Government is investing 459 million to transform PE and school sport.
Editor's comments - [ PESSCL strategy: see our Ruff guide to sport in education ]

Reference this?{tooltip}Cryer, J. (Year). This page title in italics . Retrieved date , from <this page's full URL>

In the text: Cryer (year) {end-tooltip}

The above reference is in the APA style. See why this is important in our [how to reference] us guide.